TREES AND PLANTS FOR LIFE | SPECIAL EDITION

SILKKA

Our Legacy continuous...

We are excited to reveal our new-fashioned company trademark, a crest that beautifully combines our rich heritage and core values. By incorporating elements of nature that have a special symbolic meaning, it reflects our commitment to original Dutch design, enchanting high-end collections and the joy of connecting people.

Inspired by Patrick Oude Groeniger’s love for nature, this state of the art trademark also honours the legacy passed down from father-to-son through generations. Celebrate with us as we venture into this next thrilling chapter, continuing to lead with uniqueness, innovation and style!

The Flower Bud

Intuitem et Magicae

The Acanthus Leaf

Intuitem et Magicae

Two Latin words. Latin, because all flowers, plants, and trees have Latin names. These two words best represent how we create based on our intuition with the goal of enchanting.

The Magnolia

In Chinese culture, the magnolia is associated with a love for nature and natural beauty. We believe in creating an ultimately enchanting atmosphere. Uniquely combined sources of inspiration such as nature, fashion, and interior design provide a distinctive and world-enriching experience.

The Rose

Pink roses express admiration and gratitude. Light pink roses are used to show admiration and sympathy, while dark pink roses convey gratitude and appreciation. This represents our admiration and respect for all our colleagues and customers who surprise, stimulate, and facilitate the creation of beauty and natural elegance.

The Flower Bud

Flower buds are symbols of growth and development. They remind us of the natural processes of change and evolution, both in nature and in human life. Over more than 35 years, we have developed, grown, and become stronger in making choices that have made us trendsetters.

The Acanthus Leaf

Due to its robust nature and ability to survive in harsh environments, the Acanthus leaf can also symbolize perseverance, resilience, and the ability to overcome setbacks. This symbolizes our history of existence with challenges and growing pains, but above all, resilience, successes, and joy!

The Flower of Life

For some, the Flower of Life represents the fundamental building blocks of nature, with the geometric shapes underlying everything in the physical world. Thus, all flowers, plants, and trees are our foundation for inspiration and creation.

The Tree of Life

The Tree of Life stands for the connection between all life forms on earth, with the tree serving as a central point of unity. This also applies to us in our connection with colleagues and customers, sharing a common goal to inspire, create, and enchant.

The Silk moth

The production of silk by the silkworm can also be seen as a symbol of creativity and craftsmanship. Besides being a symbol for classic silk flowers, the silkworm represents our creativity and skill that we utilize every day to create high-quality, nature-inspired artificial flowers, trees, and plants.

P.O.G.

The abbreviation P.O.G. stands for Patrick Oude Groeniger, the founder of Silk-ka, who has been called Pog by family, friends, colleagues, and customers for over 35 years.

Sculpted Branches

Collection

It's all about the shapes! This collection of branches is skilfully crafted to be versatile and stunning. Use them solo as a “cut flower” in a vase, or combine several for a lush, green bouquet.

They also shine as small trees in contemporary containers because the end of the different stems come skilfully together. With the taller branches it is flattened, the smaller ones have a distinctive point. No matter how you choose to display them, their elegance adds a unique touch to any room.

And remember, beautiful things cast beautiful shadows.

IN THE END...

The Sculpted Branches Collection is a very diverse group. You can use them as a “cut flower” in a large vase but they also shine as small trees in contemporary containers.

The end of the different stems come skilfully together. With the taller branches, as shown on the previous pages, it is flattened, while the smaller ones, coming up on the next pages, have a distinctive point as shown here.

Fixating them in, for example, floral foam will be super easy thanks to this extra feature.

Botanical Clouds

Collection

Our Botanical Clouds Collection features stunning hanging plants, complete with a practical hanging system.

Perfect for creating your own lush oasis, you can use them individually or mix and match them in various combinations. When used in larger quantities, this botanical installation will resemble a dreamy cluster of green clouds.

Elevate your space with this versatile and eye-catching collection, designed to bring a touch of floating nature indoors.
